If you're like most kids in 2022, you're obsessed with Roblox. You're playing it at night, on the bus ride home, and even during class. But Roblox is even more fun when you have free robux to spend, isn't it? With robux, you can get all kinds of in-game items and upgrades, and stand out amongst all the other Roblox players!

So who wouldn't want to get free robux? Turns out, you can actually earn free robux by playing fun and simple games on your phone with Playbite!

Think of Playbite as an arcade, but in your phone. You go in and have a ton of games to choose from, with more being added constantly. You play games, earn points for playing, and can then go to the Shop and spend those points for real prizes – one of which is a Roblox Gift Card!

If that doesn't sound good enough, Playbite doesn't show you ads either! Playbite is available on the App Store, Play Store, and on mobile web browsers.

Get free robux on Playbite

We built Playbite because we were tired of mobile games being full of ads and not having rewards. We're a bunch of nerds who are into game development, mobile apps, and anime, and decided to build "Chuck E. Cheese on your phone" to give users an app with our own games that offers:

- all games in one app (like Netflix or Spotify, but with games)
- no ads, ever (we hate ads with everything we've got!)
- cool prizes (gift cards, fidget toys, snacks, electronics, and more)

How Playbite works

The app also has a great community and we're constantly running events and giveaways too, so there's a lot to look forward to constantly! We're always giving away free tix for all kinds of things, and you'll get a big ticket bonus just for signing up.

What's the catch?

We get asked "what's the catch?" all the time. I get it. Why would we basically give away free robux? Well, the answer is easy. We're not giving it away for free... but we're also not screwing with you – our user – either! We're simply working with brands to have them sponsor our prizes... and we're even making custom games for them too!

Rest assured, if you play our games long enough, you will get your free robux – no catch!

Free robux generators don't work

We see gamers searching for free robux generators all over the Internet. Recently, we've seen a ton of scam apps pop up on iOS and Android too, asking for weird things like access to your Roblox account, and promising you don't need human verification to participate.

We've also seen a lot of these generators promise an insane amount of robux that is just simply impossible, or claim they've discovered a robux hack.

Finally, we've noticed Roblox games themselves trying to get you to do weird things and promising to give you Roblox promo codes in return.

Do not engage with any of these – they are all trying to scam you!

Let me explain:

Robux (rbx) is the in-game currency of Roblox. The currency is completely controlled by the Roblox Corporation, the company behind the game. The only way to get robux is by buying it straight from the Roblox Corporation with real money.

Roblox Corporation sells robux in just a few ways:

- One time in-app purchases you can buy directly from your account

- Recurring subscriptions you can buy directly from your account that give you a robux stipend every month it renews
- Roblox gift cards you can buy online or in real life (like at Target or Walmart)

After you buy a Roblox gift card, you have to scratch off the back of it to get a long string of text and numbers that you can input into your account to redeem the robux promo code.

Generators that offer free robux codes are simply trying to make up these codes on the fly to try to hack Roblox. Not only does it not work, they're basically trying to trick Roblox, which is not cool!

How does Playbite get its robux then?

Simple. We buy Roblox gift cards, and then give them out as prizes to awesome gamers in our platform!

Microsoft Rewards works, but isn't fun

Another popular method that does work to get robux is Microsoft Rewards. This is a program offered by Microsoft where you can earn points for taking certain actions. Then, you can use your points and spend them on their rewards page, and one of the rewards they offer – just like us – is the Roblox Gift Card.

Here's the problem. Microsoft Rewards is mainly built around you earning points for searching stuff on the Internet. That's not fun! That sounds like a chore, or homework.

To be fair, they also give you points for playing on Xbox, but not everyone has an Xbox and lots of Roblox players are into simpler mobile games, not console games.

Bottom line is you should do both: get free robux by playing fun and simple games on Playbite and using Microsoft Rewards!
